2. [REDACTED] Talked with Boyd Crawford and Al Westphal (House Foreign Affairs Committee Staff) in connection with the series of questionnaires sent out by the Fawcett Subcommittee on International Organizations. Their initial reaction was that since this was completely voluntary there appeared to be no requirement that any activity of interest to the Agency which might cause concern would need to file. In addition, Crawford indicated that it was their view as well as the Chairman's that this was a pure fishing expedition.
